NEW CHURCH EDIFICE.

Cost $40,000--Splendid Undertaking by the St. Andrews' Congregation.

Beautiful in Design and Excellent in Its Appointments--Seating Capacity.

At a congregational meeting of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church held last evening the plans prepared by Mr. Battress Trimen for a new church were accepted.

The plans are prepared for a building of magnificent proportions. They have been perfected by the architect after a great deal of labor and when carried out will give Victoria the finest edifice of the kind in the Dominion at least west of Toronto.

The style will be the Old Scotch castellated, from which it must not be understood by any unacquainted with architectural terms, that the building will be anything but thoroughly modern in its design and appointments. The St. Andrews church, Toronto and the new municipal buildings, Edinburgh, are of this style of architecture which seems peculiarly appropriate for a Presbyterian Church. It is very fashionable in the present day, and consists merely of a revival of many interesting features in architecture which are combined with modern designs.

The dimensions of the building will be 118 feet in length by 76 feet in width. From the ground to the ridge the height will be 60 feet and the tower when completed will be 100 feet high. The interior of the building will be divided into the church, a large lecture room, vestry, ladies parlor, library and cloak room. Upstairs there will be a good-sized school room with class rooms and infant school all so arranged that the superintendent on the platform can command the whole with his eye. There will be entrances to these rooms from the gallery and through the staircases. This it will be observed gives four exits from the church gallery.

The seating accommodation of the ground floor will be 500, the gallery 380 and choir 28. The general arrangement of the church is on the modern perfected plan adopted by many Presbyterian and other congregations by which the congregation surrounds the minister in seats circular on plan with a slight rise in the floor level back from the pulpit. This, it may be explained, is a return to the old Roman ampli-theatre form and is practically the plan adopted with so much success in the Senate chamber of the capitol at Washington. The arrangement places the choir with their backs to neither the congregation, the minister nor the organist.

The present fine organ, after some little renovation, will be re-erected in a half gallery at the back of the pulpit in choir will be separated sufficiently far not to interfere with each other.

The pulpit platform will be unusually large—22 feet in length—occupying the whole width of said archway; immediately beneath and in front of the pulpit is first the font, then the communion table, supported on either side by the choir wings. Ventilation has been well studied. The church will be heated with hot water which is considered much better than hot air because there is no dryness in the atmosphere.

The situation of the new edifice will be at the corner of Broughton and Douglas streets. The main entrance, which will be a handsome flight of steps will be from Douglas street through three arched doorways into the vestibule. There will be two additional entrances to the rear of the building, one from Broughton street and a corresponding one from an alleyway alongside of the church.

The material to be used in the construction is not the least important matter. The building will be faced with Cobble Hill stone, the greater part of the work rubble walling for which that stone adapts itself so admirably. The stone is even preferable to the Kentish rag which is in such demand all over England. It gives sharper outlines and changes to richer colors.

It is hoped a beginning will be made on the new structure this autumn and that it will be finished by next spring or summer. The cost is estimated at $40,000.

In preparing the plans Mr. Trimen has been rendered very valuable assistance by the Rev. Mr. McLeod who communicated with eastern architects who have built the finest churches in Toronto and elsewhere.

PROF. GOLDWIN SMITH

To Arrive This Evening--Epitomic of His Career.

Prof. Goldwin Smith, the noted scholar, historian and political economist, will arrive in the city on the Yosemite this evening and will remain for a few days.

Goldwin Smith, LL.D., M. A., historian and political controversialist, was born at Reading, the county seat of Berkshire, in the south of England, on August 13, 1823. His preparatory studies were completed in Eton, whence he removed to Oxford, where he took his degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1845. He continued his studies at the university, took his M. A. and in 1847 was made a Fellow. While at Oxford he excelled in his Latinity and as a writer of English. One of his prize productions was an essay on "The Political and Social Benefits of the Reformation in England. He was called to the bar at Lincoln's Inn, in 1847, but has never practiced law. His services were engaged in 1850 as member of a royal commission to enquire into the state, studies, discipline and revenues of the University of Oxford. At a later date he acted as secretary of a commission the results of whose labor were considerable changes at that University; and in 1858 he was member of a commission appointed to report on the state of popular education. The same year he became Regius Professor of Modern History at Oxford. His lectures during the eight years of his incumbency were remarkable for their brilliancy and the breadth and liberality of their political opinion and sentiment. In the war of the Union his advocacy of the Federal cause was uncompromising and invaluable. He employed both pen and voice to further the cause in which he had enlisted when influential friends were not so numerous as they might have been. In 1863 he published "Does the Bible Sanction American Slavery? and a pamphlet on the morality of the Emancipation Proclamation. The next year, 1864, he visited the Northern States and was received with the greatest enthusiasm. Brown University made him a Doctor of Laws that year. At the close of the war a review of his productions on the controversy between the States, and the relations of the Federal Government to that of the United Kingdom indicated very strongly the intensity with which he held his political convictions, and his extraordinary ability in enforcing them.

In November, 1868, the bond between Goldwin Smith and the people of this union was strengthened by his acceptance of a professorship at Cornell university, Ithica, New York. His subjects were English and constitutional history.

In 1871 he removed to Toronto, Canada, and assumed the responsibilities of a member of the Senate of the university of that city. His Canadian career has been that of a journalist. Goldwin Smith's books, pamphlets and lectures are demonstrations of extraordinary research and mental activity.

MAXWELL DIES.

The Murderer of Preller at Last Pays the Penalty of his Crime at St. Louis.

His Struggles Awful to Behold --Writes a Letter to the English Press.

MAXWELL'S EXECUTION.

St. Louis, Aug. 9—Maxwell's execution will take place between 6:30 and 7:45 to-morrow morning. His mother and sister will take the remains to England on the steamer leaving New York Wednesday next. The body will be buried in the church yard at Hyde, England.

MAXWELL HANGED.

St. Louis, Aug. 10—Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, who murdered C. Arthur Preller in the Southern Hotel, several years ago, was hanged at 9:01 this morning. Landgraff was hanged at the same time.

When the death warrant was read to Maxwell at 8 o'clock he paled perceptibly and it became evident that he was about to weaken. On the march to the scaffold the knees of the condemned man began to tremble, and it appeared that he would collapse. He presented a piteous spectacle, while Langraff, murderer of his sweetheart, and his companion in death, tripped bravely forward. When the arms and legs of both men had been bound they were asked if they had anything to say and on their replying "no," Maxwell in a scarcely audible tone, the trap was sprung. Not a muscle moved in the case of Langraff while Maxwell's struggles were awful to behold. The rope around his neck slipped and cut his nose and a stream of blood coursed down his white coat. The ugly bruises on both men's necks showed, however, that the neck was broken in each case.

Late last night Maxwell gave out a document for publication in the English press, in which he severely condemns what he calls the injustice of his trial and claimed that the prosecution had bribed witnesses to testify against him.

HE LOVES THE CENTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—I see, or rather hear, that you have got old Mr. Dunsmuir with an evening paper in opposition to your valuable EVENING TIMES. You may bet your life that whatever Robert Duke of Wellington sees five cents to be made he is going to make it. The Duke loves cents; thinks it fashionable to have a paper organ to play one tune, "Dunsmuir!" The people of Victoria will before long find out his propensity for cents. Not content with trying to monopolize the wholesale coal trade, he will soon be found trying to grab the retail also—not of coal only—but of firewood. When they are frozen out, I hope you will keep your weather eye open and try to stop all grabbing games when and how you can. If the Duke thinks that the Evening Standard is going to sugar coat him, or the government he is much mistaken.

NANAIMO.

CHINATOWN BY DAYLIGHT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The Town Major has made no mistake when he states that Chinatown is filthy. From one end to the other it is a mass of corruption. The back yards reek with rottenness and will cause the spread of any disease brought to or originating in the city. The filthy habits of the Chinese cannot be described and can only be seen by visiting their tenements. The opium habit is not confined to these people, for in the broad glare of day men and women—I am happy to say but few of the latter—may be seen emerging from their dens on Government and Fisgard streets. Two women are known as inveterate smokers and may be seen coming out of a den on Government on any day in the week. Then take the houses of prostitution. From Douglas street to Government you can count them by the dozen. Lotteries are in full blast daily and the windows throughout Chinatown are covered with the results of drawings. Miss Ackerman says we have but a mere handful of chinese in this city; but the lady lecturer should remember that a handful can bring along their vices and do incalculable damage to the white race. I can mention numbers of young men ruined by opium and lost to their religion by this debasing curse. The Municipalities Act, sub-section 6, section 110 reads: "Every person who smokes opium shall pay $5 every six months." Sub-section 6, section 113 reads: "From any person selling opium, except chemists and druggists using the same in preparation of prescriptions of medical practitioners, not exceeding $250 for every six months." Perhaps the Town Major can inform us whether one of the ten Chinese opium factories pay a tax of $500 per year." The collection of this tax would bring in $5,000 a year without considering the number selling to white men and women and their own countrymen. I would also ask him to inquire whether Chinese lotteries are legal and houses of prostitution in our principal streets? Then let him turn to the numerous houses kept by white women where liquor is sold for 25 cents a glass without a license, whilst licensed hotel and saloon keepers sell at 10 cents per glass. The saloon-keeper receives a license and places $200 per year in the city treasury.

THE SENATORSHIP.

Ottawa, Aug. 8—It is reported that Mr. James Reid, M. P. for Cariboo, will be called to the Senate to succeed Lieut.-Governor Nelson.

THE CABLE.

Mr. Owen Jones, of Australia, is here, after having had a successful interview at Dalhousie, N. B., with Sir John Macdonald regarding the Pacific cable project. The Premier said that the Dominion Government would grant financial aid if the other colonial governments agreed to do likewise. A second survey steamer will commence work in a few months on the Pacific, working west from Vancouver to meet the other surveying steamer in mid ocean. Mr. Jones says that the cable will be built from Vancouver to Melbourne within eighteen months.

C. P. R. CHIEF ENGINEER.

It is understood that Mr. Collingwood Schrieber, Chief Engineer and Manager of Government railways, will become the Chief Engineer of the Canadian Pacific railway shortly. The names of his probable successor are given as either Mr. Walter Shanly, M. P., Mr. Pottinger, Superintendent of the Intercolonial railway, or Mr. Archibald, Chief Engineer.

Two thousand six hundred and eighty nine patents were issued in the last fiscal year, showing a falling of 368.

DR. MACKENZIE'S REPORT.

London, Aug. 9—Simpson, Lowe & Co., publishers, announce that Dr. McKenzie's report to the charges of the German physicians regarding the illness of the late Emperor Frederick will appear printed in both German and English papers in a few weeks.

FLOODS IN SWITZERLAND.

London, Aug. 9—Immense damage has been done by the floods at all the holiday resorts in Switzerland. The basements of hotels are full of water, which will have to be pumped out. The loss is estimated at £10,000 in the Canton of Wirdlone. Basle was saved from inundation only by the raising of the embankment.

THIRD NUPTIALS TO ONE WIFE.

London, Aug. 9—To avoid any possibility of complications arising from their marriage in New York, the Duke of Marlborough and wife to-day went through another marriage ceremony at London in the registrar's office.

GEN. GORDON

ley unveiled a window in memory of Gen. Gordon, which has been placed in the Rochester Cathedral by the Society of Royal Engineers.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

London, Aug. 9—In the Commons this evening the Oaths Bill passed a third reading, 143 to 60. In the Lords the Parnell Commission bill was read for a first time. Parliament will resume after the autumn recess in the second week of November.

COSTLY REPAIRS.

Seville, Aug. 8—The cost of repairing that part of the cathedral at Seville which was ruined by the recent sinking of one of the pillars supporting the cupola, is estimated at $5,000,000. The work of reconstruction has already begun at the expense of the Spanish treasury; but a national subscription has been opened to assist in defraying the outlay. The Queen Regent has headed the list with a large sum, payable in yearly instalments, and the example of Her Majesty will be followed by various prominent academies and clubs. The work of restoration will occupy eight years.

A M. P. GETS FOUR MONTHS.

Dublin, Aug. 10—James J. O'Kelly, M. P., was to-day convicted of making a speech in favor of intimidation and boycotting, and was sentenced to four months imprisonment without hard labor.

A ROYAL RECEPTION.

New York, Aug. 10—Shortly before eight o'clock this morning steamers and other vessels to meet Blaine sailed forth. Among them was the steamer "Sloan" which met the City of New York at quarantine and both vessels steamed back to port followed by a grand procession of other craft. Blaine was seen standing in the midst of a group of friends on the deck of the steamer and gloriously surveyed the inspiring scene, while the strains of "Hail to the chief," "Home, sweet Home," and "Star Spangled Banner," was heard on all sides. There was immense enthusiasm in the saloon of the steamer. Chairman Bartlett of the reception committee read an address of welcome in highly eulogistic terms, concluding with "one blast of your bugle horn were worth a thousand men." Blaine in reply said he wished every one who wished to appreciate his welcome after his long absence had seen and heard what he had during the fourteen months he has been away. The coming campaign, he said, he viewed from an European standpoint with as much interest as in the United States. It is the opportunity of England. It is the long-looked for occasion upon which the cheaper labor and the cheaper fabrics of the old world expect to make the new, and lower the wages of American workmen to the European standard. I say the wages of the American laborer can not be reduced, except with the consent and votes of the American laborer himself. On arriving at the steamer's pier he was driven to the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

To a reporter Blaine said he did not know whether he would go on to Maine to-night or not. He did not know what arrangements had been made for him. When told the Irish Americans proposed to serenade him to-night and present an address, he replied: "That's all right; I am glad of it." As to what part he would take in the coming campaign, Blaine said he could say nothing at present. He did not think he would go outside of Maine until after the State election there on the second Monday in September. When asked about his health he at first said he was perfectly well, and then added, laughingly, "That's a question I haven't answered in three years."

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

Washington, Aug. 9—In the Senate Evarts made a speech in opposition to the ratification of the fisheries treaty. Taking up the question of bays and headlands, he contended that the waters over which Canada claimed exclusive jurisdiction, are really the high seas, as much as Baffin's Bay, Hudson's Bay, or the Bay of Fundy, and that what is known as the three-mile line is merely a line of deference, a ribbon, as it were, drawn around the shores with all their sinuosities. No nation, he argued, had a right to exclude other nations from the enjoyment of the high seas except by concession of deferences. The position to be taken by this government was to insist that it had always rejected the headland theory and did not tolerate the claim of right on the part of Great Britain by calling it a bay and to shut out of it American fishermen. That would not mean war or fear of war. War had a very wide area. It had losses, exposures, resentments and interruptions of commerce. What attack, he asked, could be made on the United States, and what booty could be expected from war with this country, and what would be casus belli. It only would be that the United States were lying under the treaty of 1818. In concluding, Mr. Evarts said he would prepare a comment upon the terms of the treaty itself. Pending the question he said Morgan's resolution for postponement till December, and a critical examination of the treaty would more properly find its place when that resolution was disposed of, and when the treaty itself was before the senate for action. After some remarks of a political character by Morgan, Blair and others, the Senate without action adjourned.

FLORIDA QUARANTINED.

Charlestown, Aug. 10—The board of health to-day declared quarantine against Florida's infected ports on account of yellow fever. Quarantine is not only by sea but by land. The Clyde line of steamers will suffer seriously.

BODIES RECOVERED.

Chattanooga, Aug. 10—The bodies of the five men who were killed at midnight by the falling of a wall in the Caldwell-Griffith block fire have been recovered.

THE IMMIGRATION PROBLEM.

New York, Aug. 10—Commissioner of Immigration Stephenson testified before the committee of the House investigating the immigration question, that he believed six per cent of the immigrants arriving at Castle Garden should be sent back. Many who have come over on false promises of certain prosperity awaiting them, have become despondent on learning the true state of things and gradually become insane. Fully 50 per cent. of the immigrants now arriving are penniless.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Ogden, Utah, Aug. 10—Ezra Hall, 38 years of age, has been arrested here on a charge of complicity in the killing of James Henry, at Hoopersville. The assassination is understood to have been provoked by Henry, having betrayed a sister of Hall's. Hall denies any complicity in the shooting of Henry, which blinded the latter of both eyes. There will be a hearing before the United States commissioner to-morrow.

COMMAND OF THE ARMY.

Washington, Aug. 10—The command of the army is virtually in the hands of Secretary Endicott, and will be until the funeral of General Sheridan. It is probable that an order assigning General Schofield to duty as Commander in Chief of the army will be issued on Monday morning.

BROKE JAIL.

Red Bluff, Cala., Aug. 10—Last night three men broke jail by sawing the window grates. One prisoner from Redding named Beck was implicated in a murder case, one in burglary, and the other for horse stealing. Officers are in hot pursuit.

SUGAR ADVANCED.

San Francisco, Aug. 10—The American Sugar Refinery has made a further advance on all grades of refined sugar of one-eighth of a cent per pound.

HANGED.

Newcastle, Del., Aug. 10—Charles H. Riedel, who murdered his wife and child was hanged here to-day at 12:42 p. m.

YELLOW FEVER EPIDEMIC.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 10—Yellow fever has been declared epidemic here and people are fleeing. Five new cases were reported in the past ten hours. The weather is hot and very favorable for the spread of the disease. The outlook is bad.

THE HAWAIIAN ARMY.

San Francisco, Aug. 8—Advices from Honolulu per steamer Australia, which arrived to-day, state that on July 24th, by a vote of 35 to 10, the legislative assembly of the Hawaiian Islands passed a military bill over the King's veto. By this bill the naval establishments are abolished and the army reduced to 65 men, exclusive of the military band.

DETERMINED SUICIDE.

A Drug Clerk in Vancouver Takes His Own Life.

Vancouver, Aug. 10—At half past ten last night, Ronald F. Buchard, clerk in H. McDowell & Co.'s drug store, died in great agony from the effects of a draught of muratic acid, taken about seven o'clock with suicidal intent. He stubbornly resisted the efforts of the doctors to save his life, saying he wanted to die. Deceased was about 23 years of age, and a native of Renfrew, Ont., and came to this city on July 18th, highly recommended. No cause can be assigned for the sad act. The body will be sent east for interment.

Respectable People Need Not Apply.

Mr. Thos. Marshall, the well known pioneer of Cowichan, is in town. Mr. Marshall says the crops are looking well and Cowichan is going ahead generally. Road work is going on but it is impossible for a decent man to get a job from this Government. No mistake about it, he says, they never employ good men for anything and you must judge them by the company they keep. I have always supported them but I think they have gone far enough, and I will never do it again. Why look at that license affair, it was a shameful piece of business.

Saloon Sold.

The saloon on Langley alley, known as the Boomerang, and kept by McDermott & Cliffe, has been purchased by Mr. Jessen. Mr. B. McDermott, whose health has been poor for some months, will take a trip to the interior to recuperate. His host of friends wish him quick and complete restoration.

—Hot lunches, between 12 and 2:30 daily, except Sunday, at the Boomerang, McDermott & Cliffe, proprietors.

CANADIAN EPISCOPALIANS.

"The Church of England in Canada" is the title by which the Episcopal Church is to be known in this country henceforth. It was formerly described as the United Church of England and Ireland; but the Montreal Synod has decided that this title is inapplicable, and that the Church should be naturalized. The adoption of this new title will serve to clear the minds of many people who have hitherto spoken of the Episcopal Church in this country, as "The Church of England," without the words "in Canada." The Church of England being an established or parliamentary church cannot, of course, legally exist outside of the realm of England. The Episcopal Church in Canada is no longer a missionary church and being independent, able to make its own laws, to govern itself, and alter its ritual without the intervention of the English House of Commons, it was quite time that it should throw off its formerly misleading title of "The United Church of England and Ireland."

SIGNIFICANT INCIDENT.

A Montreal contemporary, the Gazette, sees in the departure of the steamship Parthia from these shores for China, with 6000 sacks of flour and 620 bales of Canadian cotton piece goods, an incident that tells more eloquently than language the tremendous strides Canada is making in the development of commerce, and the immense possibilities that are opening before her. "Ten years ago there was not a mile of railway in operation west of Lake Huron; the city of Vancouver was a dense forest; the cotton manufacturing industry of Canada was small—between Japan and British Columbia had not entered the conception even of enthusiasts. To-day, a continuous line of railway stretches from Halifax to the Pacific ocean; the cotton industry has so rapidly developed as not only to displace foreign products in the Canadian market, but to reach out to the markets of Asia; and a regular line of steamships plys between Yokohama and Vancouver. Ten short years have wrought these changes and many others pregnant with enterprise, commercial development and material progress; what may not the coming decade bring to Canada of trade expansion, of industrial prosperity, growth of population, settlement of territory, and utilization of the wealth of field, forest and farm? He would have been a bold prophet who ten years ago foretold that the year 1888 would witness Canadian cottons shipped over a railway through a thriving Canadian seaport on the Pacific coast, by a Canadian line of steamers to Japan, yet these things have been done, and we stand on the threshold of a commercial and industrial development beside which the progress of the past, great as it has been, will pale into comparative insignificance."

WESTMINSTER AWAKES.

We suppose there is a time in the history of every community, as there is said to be in the lives of individuals, which taken at the flood leads on to fortune. Westminster, with an unanimity of opinion that augurs well for final success, has launched out boldly in railroad enterprise by subsidizing to the amount of $150,000 the new southern line to connect with the Northern Pacific system. Naturally the friends of the scheme are jubilant at the result of the vote. There was practically no opposition, and the people of the Royal City declared themselves a unit in demanding improved facilities of intercourse with the outer world and in promoting the material welfare of the community. There can be no doubt that Westminster has advantages exclusively her own. The centre of a fine agricultural region, the river trade, the fishing industry and the great lumber resources of the adjacent country are all elements of prosperity which must prove to be sources of great wealth when fully utilized, as they must be in the near future. There is, of course, a danger that the newly-awakened enthusiasm may be allowed to cool before the enterprise which gave it birth is carried to completion; but a start will be made and the fruition of the hopes and expectations of the people cannot be long deferred. The tendency to antagonise the Canadian Pacific Railway is not a reassuring feature of the new movement, for it must be obvious that a railway to the south, connecting with the railway system of the United States, cannot long remain independent of either one or the other of the two great transcontinental railways.

MR. SHAKESPEARE'S LETTER.

Were we an enemy of Mr. Shakespeare—which we are not—we would pray that he might be persuaded into writing a book. His letter in Wednesday's Times, characterized as "false" certain statements made in these columns in regard to the reduction of salaries in the post-office. We stated in the article in question that Messrs. Baker and Shakespeare were in a measure responsible for the reductions, as they had given their assent to the principle several years ago, when the salary of Mr. Wallace, late postmaster, was reduced. We were perhaps not quite as explicit as we should have been, and thereby gave Mr. Shakespeare an opportunity to write a brief and pointless letter of denial. Further enquiry has shown that we were in error in stating that the city members were instrumental in reducing Mr. Wallace's salary. Had we said that Messrs. Baker and Shakespeare were parties to the injustice of refusing the late postmaster the allowance which was his by right—we would have stated the case with considerable accuracy. Mr. Wallace was unfairly and ungenerously dealt with by the government, and if the treatment he received was not at the suggestion, it met with the approval, of the city representatives of that time. Mr. Wallace applied for the appropriation in question, and if we are not mistaken a sum was placed in the estimates by the Government for that purpose, but was afterwards expunged—it is generally believed—upon the advice of the gentlemen referred to. We regret that our correspondent has decided not to write again on this subject, for there are several things he could explain and also assist us in elucidating for the benefit of the public. Mr. Shakespeare is now in private life, and it is perhaps not fair to expect that he should enter upon a newspaper controversy; but Mr. Crow Baker is still a representative of the city, and is generally credited with a vindictiveness against those who do not bow down and worship him only surpassed in intensity by his inordinate ambition. He ought to write a letter—say to the morning organ, which recently called upon him for explanations—and take the people into his confidence.

NEW CHINESE LAW.

The new Chinese restriction bill, now before the United States Senate, and which will probably become law, is a very stringent measure. Under its operation the Chinese population in that country will be at least limited to its present number, and [illegible] Chinese officials, teachers, students merchants and travelers for pleasure or curiosity, who will be required to have the permission of the Chinese Government, or of whatever government they may be citizens or subjects. The personal identity of this class will be carefully recorded and a series of certificates will be furnished to the captains of the vessels by which they travel and to the consular offices and collector of customs. Captains of ships are made liable for the proper carrying out of the law, and heavy penalties are imposed for any violation of its provisions in this respect. No Chinese laborers, having left the United States, will be permitted to return unless he has a lawful wife, child or parent in the United States, or property therein to the value of $1000, or debts of like amount due him and pending settlement. The marriage to such wife must have taken place at least a year prior to the application of the laborer for a permit to return. Laborers possessing the required certificate will only be permitted to enter at the ports from which they took their departure. The law contains stringent provisions for its enforcement, and will dispose of the bogus certificate dodges and the practice of smuggling Chinese across the border from this country.

A CURIOUS ISLAND.

The Christmas Island, which has just been annexed to the British Empire, is the second island of that name which has recently been added to England's colonial possessions. The first is a mere speck in the centre of the Pacific on the route likely to be followed by the new cable from Vancouver to Australia. The newly annexed island is also very small, only a few miles in circumference, and lies about 200 miles southwest of Java. It is one of the most curious islands in the world. It rises to a height of over 1000 feet above the sea, and is covered with coral to its summit, the only instance of the kind that is known. The coral is honeycombed throughout, eaten into great caves by the sea—the coast, except at one spot, consisting of cliffs in some places 150 feet high. Similar cliffs are a marked feature all over the island up to its very summit. It is densely covered with vegetation of the most tangled and tropical character. Huge crabs with great protruding eyes crawl about in thousands during the day, their place being taken by myriads of rats at night. There is really no harbor—no nothing but a dangerous cove on the northwest coast of the island. Nor is there any water, as whatever rain falls percolates at once through the porous coral. One other curious point is that the coral overlooks a core of volcanic rocks. It is difficult to know what object the Government had in annexing this island, which is practically useless from a commercial point of view, although it is reported that guano deposits are found in the island, and that cocoanut trees exist in great profusion. But, in any case, England has obtained possession of a natural curiosity of the greatest interest to naturalists.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In the U. S. Senate, Mr. Blair introduced a joint resolution, requesting the President to open negotiations with Great Britain, having in view the political union of Canada and the United States. It was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

An Ottawa dispatch to the Winnipeg Call, (Conservative) says that if the House had been in possession of information relative to the cost of living in Victoria, at the time it was proposed to reduce the vote for post-office salaries it is likely that no reduction would have been made. This is placing the responsibility upon the shoulders of our representatives, where the Colonist (government organ) has already located it.

A somewhat smart trick was played on the doctors by the Boston Globe, which sent a reporter, an athlete, in splendid condition physically, to ten of the leading physicians for advice. He described a collection of imaginary symptoms, telling the same story to each. Not one of the examiners pronounced him a healthy man, but every one of them gave a diagnosis and a prescription—the diagnosis and the prescription in every case differing from the other nine. The Globe's conclusions are not at all flattering to the science of healing. But in justice to the medical profession it should be understood that physicians have never been trained to diagnose a lie, and that is what they claim were called upon to do in this case.

Senator Canfield is said to be considering whether he should not enter an action for libel against the Columbian, which reflected on the financial standing of the Senator. A libel suit is very easily entered, and if there is any fun in the operation our senatorial friend will perhaps indulge in the amusement, as he is fond of a joke; but the railway interest which he has so much at heart will not benefit by any exasperating and petty persecution of the press. What do our contemporaries think about a defensive alliance on the question of actions for libel? "A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind," and even our old and respected friend Higgins ought to be willing to coalesce with his worst enemy in an attempt to frown down the practice, now so general, of prosecuting for libel whether with or without pretext or just ground for feeling aggrieved.

The Sidney, Aust., Herald says of the recent break in the Australian cable: "Some difference of opinion exists as to the cause of the dislocation. It is thought by the Port Darwin Superintendent of the Eastern Extension, Telegraph Company, that eruption in the Straits. The officials in the post office here appear to think, on the other hand, that it may be attributed to the growth of coral reefs, which have penetrated the cables. It is difficult to conceive, however, how both lines should have given way at the same time from that cause. The interruption has naturally turned the public mind to the scheme for the establishment of independent cable communication by way of Canada, Vancouver Island and New Zealand, discussed at the Postal Conference recently held in Sydney, and no doubt the result of the survey of the proposed route, which has been undertaken by the Admiralty authorities, will be looked forward to with some amount of interest."

Labouchere discusses the Chinese question as follows: I observe that the Yankees, who themselves only got to America long after the Spaniards and French, now want to keep out all other people. They have already excluded the Chinese, and now they say they won't have any but selected, or, so to speak, prize Europeans. Come now, Jonathan, say, this is rather too strong, and will drive the whole world to adopt a system of reprisals. You are taking up the impossible attitude of your red skinned predecessors, the Mohican and the Huron. If you persist in it we shall have to begin the whole business over again, start a new Columbus, and rediscover America. I should be sorry for this. I don't wish the world to be afflicted with another Farmer George, and, although the virtues of tea are, in my opinion, much exaggerated, I should consider it sinful waste to throw away any more of it in Boston harbor. Then again there is that dreadful Confederate and slavery business and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and all the rest of it. All this will have to be gone through once more if you insist upon our rediscovering America.

Toronto Week: From semi-official sources comes a statement which seems to admit that, as we suspected, the trouble with the Skeena River Indians had it origin in the neglect or failure of the proper authorities to come to an agreement for the transfer of the Indian title. This omission is wrong in principle and may prove dangerous. It should be remedied at the earliest possible moment. From every point of view it is desirable and right that treaties should, if possible, be made, and no rankling sense of injury left to inflame even the feeblest tribes. Few will, at this day, care seriously to dispute the abstract right of the aboriginal tribes to ownership of the soil in their respective localities. Their claim is based substantially on the same ground as that of any first settlers whose prior occupancy is generally regarded amongst civilized people as giving them an indefeasible claim to the land occupied. Were it not so, as a mere matter of policy it would be vastly wiser and better to purchase the Indian claims in every instance where it is possible to do so, rather than to incur the hostility of a race whose tribes may always be reckoned on as faithful allies, but vindictive and deadly enmies.

AYER'S Sugar-Coated Cathartic PILLS.

If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them, with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism and Dyspepsia.—G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.—Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.—Theodore Ealing, Richmond, Va. ††

VICTORIA INDUSTRIES.

The Sweets of Life--A Visit to the Several Candy Factories of the City.

Establishments of Redgrave & Ella, H. L. Lilley, W. J. Tippins and A. Lawrance.

Days amongst tobacco smoke, days amongst brew tubs and days with opium fumes of Victoria's plague spot, China town, would even to the hard-hearted man of the Times make a day spent amidst the sweets of life enjoyable. Accordingly we will ask our readers to accompany us in a ramble round the some four candy factories which furnish the "food of angels" for the sweet tooth of Victoria especially and the province of British Columbia in general. Only fancy some ten or twelve tons of sugar, glues, starch paints, not counting "fuller's earth"—which none will acknowledge to use, and other ingredients for flavoring, coloring, &c. The subject of the present is sweet, delicious and loving, to our sweethearts, wife and children especially so calling at

MESSRS. REDGRAVE & ELLA'S

Candy factory, on Fort street, we were kindly and courteously received by both partners in the firm, and had the whole process of sugar boiling, crystalizing, coloring, and the ins and outs of candied sugars thoroughly explained. This factory occupies extensive, well ventilated premises on Fort street, and being the oldest and one of the best known emporiums of the kind, the present proprietors, the goods and the locality are familiar to the readers of THE TIMES. We were conducted up stairs and had explained the process of the boiling of the sugars in the revolving pan, the steam kettle for "gum drops," the drying room, the use of starch, not common among the confectioners' article, the stamps and moulds for conversation lozengers, and other fancy candies. We examined all the various machines for turning out the various kinds, the cooler, the cutters and stampers, simple and ingenious, so that at a push we could go into the manufacture of candy. The sugar is purchased in Victoria and flavoring extracts, essential oils, raw chocolate, coloring matter imported from New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Montreal, &c. The Canada sugar from Redpath's, of Montreal, is found to be the best for candy making purposes. The candy factories of Victoria only import the raw material and flavors, and all goods as seen so temptingly displayed in the retail windows of the establishments are of home manufacture, pure, wholesome and good. As one description of a candy factory with very little difference applies to all a like—a seperate account will be unnecessary. The peppermint is our native production, and there are many "tricks of trade" applicable to candies as well as to others. There is everything in a name. In the store and ware-rooms of Messrs. Redgrave & Ella we found Angel's food, all kinds of nougat, chocolates and marsh mallows, which class of goods are a speciality of this firm. Any lengthened description of the various kinds of lozenges, comfits drops, &c., would be confusion; they are nearly all alike, a little color, a drop of flavor and the transformation is wonderful. Redgrave & Ella have carried on the business for the past two years, having succeeded Mr. Waller, and find trade first rate and rapidly increasing. They export very largely up the country, both Mainland and Island. They employ four hands constantly, and the output for the past year, including the retail trade, was $15,000. With a thorough knowledge of the business these two young men, just starting on the sea of enterprise, will, owing to their courteous and obliging manner, be sure to secure a large share of the public patronage.

THE CITY CANDY FACTORY,

105 Douglas street, H. A. Lilley, proprietor, established ten years, is well and favorably known to the consumers of the delicious article as put before the public by Mr. Lilley. As in the other instances Mr. Lilley imports all the raw material, except the sugar, and manufacturers all his goods on the premises, making his own essences from the fruit, i. e., strawberry, raspberry, lemon, &c. We went through the factory saw the full workings of the various processes. The material used is all pure. Specialities of the city candy factory is candied fruit; the retail establishment receives a large share of the public patronage of its neighborhood. Mr. Lilley employs some five hands and informed us that the trade was gradually increasing. The goods of the City Candy factory find their way far into the interior and the output for the past year, including the large retail business, was some $13,000. A little further down Douglas street, at No. 125, we found the

VICTORIA STEAM CANDY FACTORY,

W. J. Tippins, proprietor, established some twelve years or so. This is the only factory of candy that uses steam power in production, which is carried out on a large scale. Mr. Tippins intends to make largely of his celebrated gum goods and endeavor to compete with eastern houses in this especial line. The engine is 2 h. p for working the revolving pans, steam boiling, cocoanut cutter, grates, &c., and generating the gas for soda water purposes. The special line of goods turned out by this firm is Boston chips, gum drops, fruit drops, &c. The export trade is large and increasing and the output for last year was some $10,000. The number of hands employed constantly is four, and it is the intention to double the capacity of the factory should trade warrant. Mr. Tippins is a master of the art of making gum drops and other candies, &c., which combined with long experience of the trade will no doubt place the Victoria Steam Factory goods ere long at points far beyond the Rocky Mountains.

THE CHICAGO CANDY FACTORY

is at No. 60 Government street, Mr. A. Lawrance, proprietor, established two years, is well and favorably known to our sweet toothed fellow citizens. Mr. Lawrance confines his manufacturing business solely to that of ices, chocolates, all kinds of fruit candies, creams of all kinds, marron glacilees, &c. This latter can't be had anywhere else this side of Chicago. He finds that he can't compete with eastern houses in the common line of goods, and therefore confines himself to production of the finer and more delicate part of the trade. The manufacture is all manual. This establishment possesses the largest and best marble beds for rolling and cutting, &c., of the candies. One especially is the largest on the coast, being 12x8 and 3 inches thick. There are nine slabs in all constantly employed, which give some conception of the magnitude of the trade done by the Chicago Factory. Mr. Lawrance is a live Yankee, and what he does not know about candy is not worth knowing. He acquired a knowledge of his business from the celebrated Gunther, of Chicago, and defies competition in his especial line, i. e., chocolates, creams, glacilies, &c. A large shipment of his chocolate creams were sent to England a short time ago. The trade of the Chicago is fast increasing, being double this year from what it was formerly. There are seven hands employed, and owing to fast increasing demands Mr. Lawrence will ers long be compelled to double the output of his factory. The export trade in his especial line extends all over from Vancouver to Calgary, and the fame and flavor of his creams has reached the bright lips of many a fair damsel far in the interior. With a thorough knowledge of his business, and a good deal of the Yankee push, Mr. Lawrence is bound to run the Chicago factory to the top of the tree.

The candy factories of Victoria are clean and well conducted, and as a general rule the goods turned out are free from adulteration, sweet, good and wholesome as far as the sweets of life goes.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

The Royal Jubilee Hospital--The Doctors, Parsons and Public.

Whither are we drifting? Victoria has awakened at last; there seems to be some public interest taken in affairs of late, and the discussions about that much abused Jubilee Hospital site are falling fast and thick on the head of the Colonist man. It's a good job, for the poor fellow, even if he is compelled now and then to stick in a played out yarn about Lord Palmerston, the hospital site must be a great relief to the strain of original matter. Well, doctor, the Major would like to know if a bonded site away up the Borsside road is included in one of your four? If so, drop it. You doctors should be the best judges as regards cubic space, location of w. c's., and other conveniences; if not then you ought to be. The architects should receive instructions as to conveniences required and then draw the plans according to such, giving the required cubic space in dimensions of apparments. The Major's opinion is that come what may the building should be a triumph of the architectural skill of Victoria. There are not many around the city, and the variety of style in either public or private buildings anything but varied. Whether this is the fault of the architects deponent knoweth not. However, the whole lot is nothing to boast of. Why not build it in front anyway, of cut stone? It should appear solid, lasting and permanent. Have nothing to do with Messrs Stullo & Co., or them other chaps Lath & Plaster. They look beggarly and a make believe. If it is only a piece let it be substantial, and artistic in design. Now as to the site if you can bring the city to the hospital do so. Surely the greenest of your moss-backs does not for a moment imagine that Victoria is for ever to remain a little strip of land from Rock to James Bay? Would not a line of trains from Esquimalt to top of Fort street pay; try it at 5c rides and place the luxury of a ride within the reach of all, and like the penny postage it would pay and it would also bring the city to the Hospital. Many say it is the laziness of the doctors and the parsons, who don't want to walk so far. The former, it is said, never visit the present Royal Hospital once in a decade, and then only to improve their knowledge in case of an operation. The visitors' book would show, &c. As for the parsons they had only to attend each once in five weeks, but then the proverbial laziness of some Victoria parsons must be considered. Between the doctors and the parsons, the architects, THE TIMES and the Town Major, the good spirits and the bad, the poor hospital will still remain the melee hospital. Where are the workingmen, in whose interest the whole scheme is? Has he nothing to say on the subject? or has the apathy of the country so engendered in his system that he doesn't care? There was no use in their doing anything in the matter; it would only offend their employers were they to speak their minds. Everyone had some object connected with anything here in Victoria; there were always an ulterior tail of every motive. Facts speak for themselves, and things point that way. It seems to be that the demon self-interest is paramount everywhere. Why not, Dr. Davie, call a public meeting of the class the hospital is intended to benefit, and have the sense of such a meeting taken. Let it not be stuffed either, nor the right of free speech manacled. Let the opposing forces, the big Endians and small Indians, argue the point out fair and square. Some ill-natured people, aye, and the ladies at that, go so far as to say that the reason of the doctors' objecting to the Cadboro road site is because being so far out it would interfere with their comfort and pastimes. There are other causes dinned into The Major's ear; well he does not believe in the total depravity of human nature, and he would be sorry to repeat some that he has heard. However, he will keep his eye on the Jubilee Hospital and if things don't go straight the pillory of public opinion must be called into requisition by

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into the system and when these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Masonic Reception.

There will be a Masonic reception at the lodge room to-morrow at 3 p. m., when the brotherhood will have an opportunity of meeting the Worshipful Grand Master of Canada, R. T. Walkem, who is at present in the city. The proceedings, we believe, will be of an informal character, but they will undoubtedly be of a pleasant and agreeable nature. All members of the order are invited to be present.

Collapse of San Diego.

It is claimed that the collapse of the California boom has left San Diego as dead as a smoked herring. The immense hotel at Coronado beach is almost deserted, the proprietors losing about $1,500 per month. Any number of fine buildings in San Diego contain the discouraging bills "to let." The handsome building, completed by R. H. Dalton, at an expense of $60,000, is vacant, and the banks, it is stated, will not loan money on city property at 10 per cent of its cost.

McLaren, Ross & Co.'s Mill.

John Hendry, of the Royal City Planing Mill, arrived from the Sound last night, where he had been, in company with Mr. Hamilton, of Peterboro, examining the Port Blakely Mill, the largest on the coast. Mr. James McLaren, of Ottawa, has telegraphed Mr. Hamilton to meet him at Westminster on the 20th, when arrangements will be completed for the erection of the new lumber mill for McLaren, Ross & Co., which will have a capacity of 300,000 feet per diem, equalling that of Port Blakely.

Scene at a Funeral

An extraordinary scene took place at the funeral in Penzance of Thomas Oates, who had drowned himself in consequence, it was said, of an unhappy home. He had lived with his wife and mother-in-law. Two thousand persons attended the funeral. When the clergyman left the mob tried to hustle the young widow and her mother into the grave. Failing this, they stripped the young woman of her widow's dress bonnet and gloves, and wedding ring. A policeman got her into the sexton's house, and he and three volunteer preservers of the peace saw her safely home. They were followed by a jeering and shouting crowd, the worst among whom were women.

The Late Masonic Poet.

Mr. Robert Morris, the poet laureate of Free Masonry, whose death was announced in THE TIMES last week, died from paralysis at his home at Lagrange, Ky., July 31st. He was married, and leaves several children. Dr. Morris was born August 31st, 1828. He was initiated into the craft March 5, 1846, and passed through the various degrees until his election as grand master of Kentucky in 1858. Soon after his initiation be began to gain considerable prominence as a poetical writer, the subjects of his poems being invariably the aims or sentiments of the craft. In 1868 he undertook a journey through the Holy Land, and the results of his observations on that trip he afterwards published under the title, "Freemasonry in the Holy Land." He was elected first Master of the Royal Solomon Lodge, at Jerusalem, in 1873. Five years later he directed his researches to the land of "Robbie Burns," of whose works Dr. Morris was an ardent admirer. His most recent writings are founded on sketches made during the journey. In 1884 he was crowned poet laureate. During his life he traveled extensively and visited 3000 Masonic Lodges. He visited Victoria, and while here lectured before the Masonic lodges, displaying a large collection of ancient coins.

A WEALTH OF SILVER.

Mines Around Port Arthur—Capitalists Investing in Them.

Port Arthur, Aug. 5.—Your correspondent has just returned from a tour of the principal mines in and surrounding the silver region. The "Shuniah Weachu" mine in the silver mountain district was first visited. It is now employing about 80 men and continues steadily improving in the lower levels at both the east and west ends. The silver mountain mine proper has connected with the Shuniah Weachu by a substantial wagon road and the company are putting up substantial offices, workshops, &c. The Crown Point mine adjoining the silver mountain is turning out some rich ore veins, yielding about as high as $160 to the ton without silver being visible. The Silver Fox northwest of Whitefish Lake, is turning out magnificent native and black silver specimens. The chief work, however, is confined to putting up permanent buildings for employees. The Badger mine is now employing fully 90 men and still keeps the lead for large output of very rich ore, which is being barrelled for export, being too rich for the mill. The Beaver mine was next visited. Here everything is progressing satisfactorily, a marked improvement being visible. The Rabbit Mountain mine is expected to resume work after the annual general meeting shortly to be held. Encouraging work is being done at the Cariboo mine and other finds in that vicinity are reported by late investors, who are quietly buying up promising properties. Large tracts of iron are still being taken up by capitalists, both English and American. Owing to the rapid development of the mining regions arrangements are being made to place a small steamer on White Fish Lake for transport service. A large number of new mining locations are being continually taken up and the outlook for future development is bright. The silver region never was more promising.

Mass Meeting.

A grand union mass meeting will be held in the Methodist Church this evening commencing at 8 o'clock. Miss Ackerman and a number of others will address the meeting. All are invited.

Trains will leave Victoria at 8:20 a. m. and 3:32 p. m., calling at all stations. Returning, will leave Nanaimo at 6 p. m. Tickets good to return on Sunday and Monday at 9:04 a. m. and 3:16 p. m.

Incoming Passengers.

San Francisco, Aug. 10—Passengers by the Umatilla to-day for Victoria: Miss Fleming, J Sumner, J H Trieman, Miss C M Tully, Miss J B Steves, Mrs Jack, A C White, Mrs A M Dickenson, Mrs F W H Wright, W R Sproul, Miss J Anderson, L H Feiling, R Derosa and wife, T Watson, A G Phippe and wife, J Cochran, Miss A Davey and R Stephen.

Association Convention.

The Young Men's Christian Associations of the Pacific Northwest, including British Columbia, will hold their fifth annual convention at Seattle, W. T., Sept. 20th. An attractive programme is being prepared, and it is expected that there will be the largest gathering of Christian young men ever held on the upper coast. Reduced rates will be given. For full particulars enquire of the General Secretary at the rooms on Broad street.

High Church Services.

At a meeting, a number of the members of the Episcopal Church, Vancouver, decided on account of the "high church" nature of the services conducted at St. James' Church, to take steps towards the erection of a new church. When sufficient money has been raised a new church will be erected in the west end, and meanwhile, as soon as the services of an evangelical clergyman are obtained, some building in the vicinity will be used for the purpose.

Visitors Coming.

The whole management of the O. R. & N. will pay Victoria a visit on Tuesday next and remain over until Thursday morning. Mr. W. H. Holcomb, general manager, who makes frequent visits will arrive with his family; also Mr. B. Campbell, general freight agent, Mr. A. L. Maxwell, general passenger and ticket agent, Mr. C. W. Johnson, superintendent, and Mr. S. B. Willey, comptroller, will compose the party. Hotel accommodation and carriages have been engaged for them during their stay.

The Southern Railway.

Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock two engineering parties were sent out by Mr. Hill and have commenced work on the definite location of the line. A caller at the company's office to-day learned that everything is working nicely, and that within ten days the "dust will be flying" and the work of construction under way. The company has advertised for 500 men to work on the road, but this is only a beginning and the number will be largely increased as construction progresses. It is evident from this that the company are not going to let the grass grow under their feet.—Columbian.

Accident.

Miss Beauchamp, daughter of R. Beauchamp, was thrown from a delivery wagon at 1 o'clock this afternoon and was badly injured. Mr. Beauchamp was driving around the corner of Broad and Yates street when the front wheel of the vehicle struck against a portion of a telephone post which had been left at the southwest corner of Yates and Broad streets. The lady was thrown out, striking the ground with her head and shoulder, and receiving severe if not serious injuries. Drs. Dearden and Sanson were immediately summoned and the patient was removed to Mr. Beauchamp's residence. The post against which the wagon struck is about eight inches above the street; it is dangerous and might have caused a fatal accident.

Foresters' Excursion.

To-morrow morning the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway will carry to Nanaimo a large number of Foresters and others wishing to put in a thoroughly enjoyable day. Preparations on an elaborate scale have been made in Nanaimo to make the re-union a grand success. The Foresters of this city will parade to-morrow morning at half-past seven o'clock, and from their hall, headed by their band, will parade the city. They will be met at Nanaimo by Court Nanaimo Foresters' Home, No. 5886, which is a very strong court, and the two combined, with flags and bannerets, will parade the Black Diamond city. We would advise those desirous of visiting Nanaimo and of enjoying good sport to secure tickets from any member of the committee. The fair is put down at the low figure of $2.50, good for three days and the privilege of entrance to the Foresters' grounds.

—Kurtz's Jubilee Cigars are now ready.

POLICE COURT RECORD.

[Before Hon. A. R. Richards, G.C.]

John Lawrence, on remand, on a charge of being drunk.

His Honor said being drunk was not an offence under the Statute, unless the defendant was creating a disturbance. The man was lying partly on the street and partly on the sidewalk.

The Superintendent then asked to have the portion of the information struck out which states that the man was drunk, and charged him with loitering on the street obstructing passengers.

His Honor—It was very early in the morning and very few people passed along the street. He did not obstruct them.

The Superintendent—That would be a bad precedent, because men could lay around on the streets for the purpose of robbing people.

Officer Thomas was called and proved that defendant was lying partly on the sidewalk, partly over the gutter and partly on Government street.

His Honor—I think a conviction on this evidence could be quashed in the Supreme Court.

The Superintendent—Since my connection with the police force no such conviction has been quashed.

His Honor—The law is to be carried out as it is before me. The City Council can pass a law making drunkenness an offence.

The defendant was discharged.

Two cases of infracting the Thistle by-law; withdrawn.

SOME GET UP.

This is the Way They do Things on the Other Side.

Senator Canfield and Col. Sheafe said this morning that inside of ten days they would have actual construction commenced on the New Westminster and Southern railway and be able to transport passengers and freight from New Westminster to Whatcom two months from date. The company proposes to run cars into Seattle from the Royal City before the snow flies. If this is accomplished in the short time mentioned it will only be another evidence of American enterprise and go-aheadativeness. The company with which the Senator is connected have large coal interests on the Skagit river, and have made a contract with Portland parties to deliver to them 100 tons of coke per day, which in itself will necessitate the establishment of large coking works. They evidently mean business. What are our British Columbians doing? They should get up and get.
